

Vassar girls following the ball in the freshman-sophomore hockey game, in which the sophs defeated the first year girls. Fotograms.

With the sea as "fair ground." A new form of polo, played on the beach at Coronado, Cal., by army officers stationed in the various military posts. Pacific & Atlantic.

A Spanish version of the "kiddie kar,"—racing with the "rado," the Castilian youth's newest toy. Peterffy.

The burial of Father Bernard Vaughan, famous English Jesuit. His nephew, Canon Vaughan, is shown blessing the grave. New York Herald Foreign Photo.

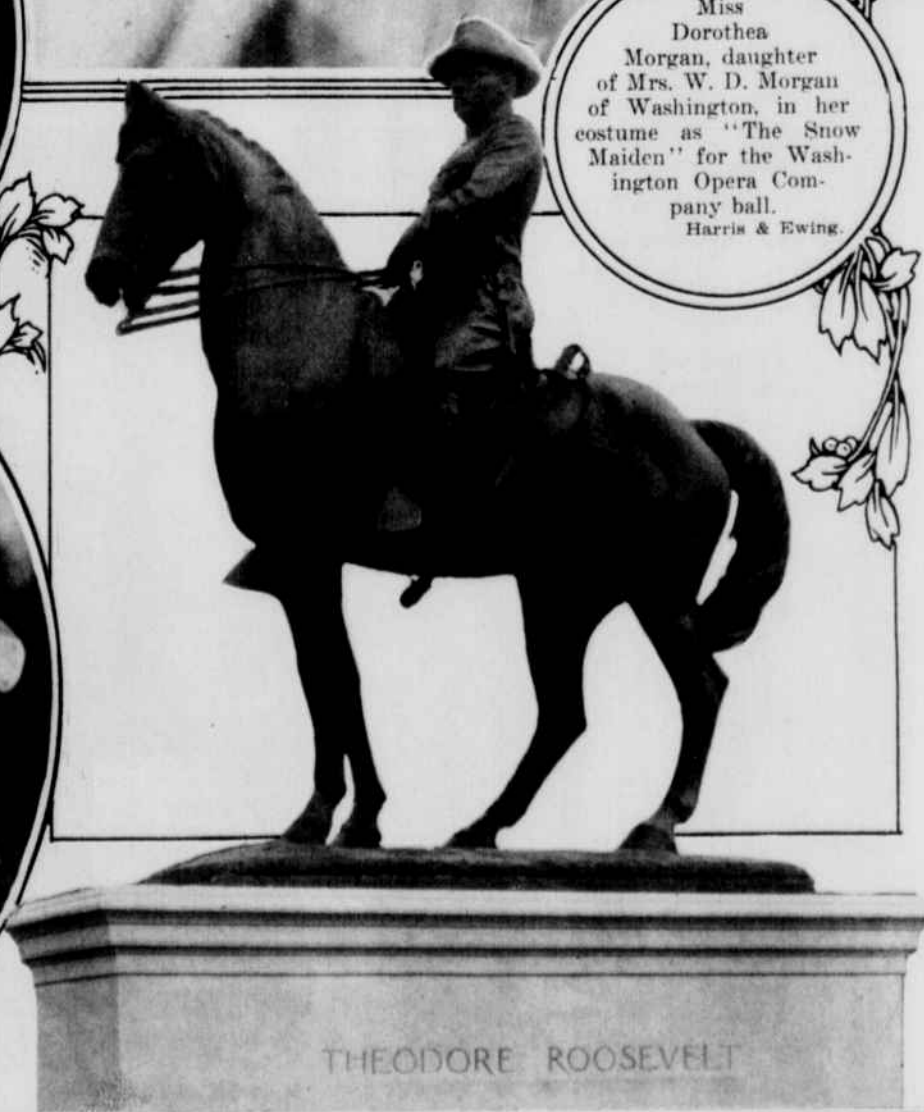

Miss Dorothea Morgan, daughter of Mrs. W. D. Morgan of Washington, in her costume as "The Snow Maiden" for the Washington Opera Company ball. Harris & Ewing.

The bridal party at the wedding of the "Lady of the Lighthouse," Miss Winifred Holt, to Mr. Rufus Graves Mather. In the group, left to right: Prof. Frank Jewett Mather, best man; Mrs. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, matron of honor; the bride, Bishop William T. Manning, the bridegroom, Henry Holt, father of the bride. In front, Winifred Holt Bloodgood, flower girl, and, seated, Master Holt Bloodgood, page. Paul Thompson.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles, who is still youthful at 83, is an ardent golfer and often finds time to go around the links at the Chevy Chase Club, Washington. Keystone.

The statue of Theodore Roosevelt as a Rough Rider, by Alexander P. Proctor, unveiled in Portland, Oregon, with elaborate ceremonies on Armistice Day. The statue was presented to the city by Dr. Henry Walder Coe, lifelong friend of the late President. Wide World.